Read this before you stake anything: combined probability multiplies each leg's chance together, which assumes independence — it always overstates how "safe" a long acca really is. Goals-for/against, cards and referee figures are pre-filled from general club profile knowledge where shown — they are estimates for illustration, not verified live season data — replace them with real numbers from a stats site before relying on them. This tool doesn't know about injuries, lineups or news after you entered the data. Gamble responsibly.
